FAQS

What is Thermage?

Thermage is a non-invasive treatment that helps smooth and tighten skin for an overall younger looking appearance. The treatment can deliver natural looking results with little to no downtime, and is suitable for all skin types.

How long will the results last?

For most patients, measurable results appear gradually in the four to six months following a single treatment session and can last for one to two years depending on your skin condition and ageing process.

How many treatments will I need?

Unlike many cosmetic procedures requiring multiple sessions, Thermage can deliver results after a single treatment. Best of all, results continue to improve over time. Treatments every 6 months to 2 years may be recommended by your Thermage provider depending on your skin condition and goals.

Does it hurt?

The Thermage system incorporates vibration on face and body treatments which has been shown to provide patient comfort. You will feel a brief heating sensation when the treatment device's tip touches your skin, followed by a cooling sensation to help protect your skin and minimise any discomfort.

Are there common side effects?

Some patients have temporary redness or minor swelling after treatment, but this usually goes away within 24 hours.

How long before I can go back to my normal activities?

Most patients return to their regular activities immediately following treatment. No special care is required afterward, aside from basic skin maintenance and sunscreens as part of a regular skincare regimen.

HOW IT WORKS:

As we age, the collagen that keeps skin firm breaks down resulting in sagging skin, fine lines, and wrinkles.

The latest generation of Thermage uses radiofrequency technology to heat the deep, collagen-rich layers of the skin, while the tip vibrates and cools the surface to help aid in patient comfort.

The applied heat separates the water molecules from the collagen fibrils, causing an immediate contraction, resulting in skin tightening.

Over the next few months, the secondary healing response continues as collagen is deposited and remodeled.

This process tightens the skin further over time.

Smoother, tighter, more contoured skin after just one treatment with continued improvement for up to 6 months.
